

Welcome to Live Well York

An Information and Advice community website for adults and families

Voluntary sector partners and local people have worked alongside the City of York Council to create a website that provides good quality information and advice related to health and wellbeing. The site hosts and promotes many opportunities for adults in York to enjoy healthy, active and independent lives.

The website is now live at www.livewellyork.co.uk and is currently in its soft launch phase of development. This means that the team behind Live Well York are eager to welcome your feedback on the site, what is working well and what needs to be improved before it moves to the next phase of development.

Currently the site hosts information including:

- Community Activities Directory
  - Over 450 community activities (and growing) taking place across York that can be searched using multiple filters including “where” is the activity, “who” is the activity for and “what” type of activity is it.
- Community Events Calendar
  - A calendar of community events taking place across York, searchable using multiple filters and visible month by month.
- Information and Advice
  - Over 80 informative pages split across 10 sections ranging from Health and Wellbeing through to Carers, Volunteering and Getting Out and About.
- Customisable “My Information Booklet” feature allowing you to add any activity, event or information page to a printable booklet that can also be emailed to your inbox to print or read later.
- Service and Products Directory
  - A growing directory of services and products available across York to support your health and wellbeing

The upcoming additions to the site will include further improvements to the “My Information Booklet”.

You can use the feedback button or smiley faces located at the bottom of each page to provide feedback.
